The Sugar Tax
==========

They are banning sugar from our world.
While we were sleeping again they had it
A lump, or crystal or something like that Taxed for being a natural
Despised for not having a law already
They chose to focus on the simple charbohydrate
And though their media made a nation to hate it
To give the people what they want
After telling them what they should want
A tax on sugar is what we see
Given from the sour faced burocracy.
